Feature Product of the Month

Austin Stone on Exterior Surfaces

Quick Brick represents a very cost effective, extremely consumer friendly method that can be applied to myriad of surfaces with no chipping, peeling, or fading surpassing market expectations.

Wouldn't you know Quick Brick would also come up with an imitation stone for house numbers that can be purchased along with that new Austin Stone archway of your dreams. This is applied to exterior brick with masonry screws to give a finished look to the entryway of your home.

Once again Quick Brick is setting the pace with its new application of Austin Stone or Flagstone on existing brick homes and office buildings. This unique application replicates trends in the marketplace as builders add stone to the archways and corners of new homes and buildings. However, real stone has limitations as to surface application. Quick Brick's exterior Austin Stone and Flagstone process has eliminated those barriers by providing a finished project that does not add excessive weight, but is durable and beautiful.

CONGRATULATIONS to Tom Jones and Susan Roby

Tom Jones, Certified Distributor and spokesman for Quick Brick, has recently completed the 12 month program that provides all the necessary criteria to become a Quick Brick Certified Trainer. As a Certified Trainer (CT) Tom is now in charge of training the new distributors at Quick Brick University. Tom has been "Top Producer of the Year" and has hundreds of satisfied Quick Brick customers. Some of his unique applications have included applying Quick Brick on the side of a building with Hardiboard as well as applying Quick Brick over a wood deck turning it into a flagstone patio trimmed with a brick border. You can view these impressive and unique applications for residential and commercial customers on Tom's personal gallery at www.quickbrick.com/tomjones.

Tom resides in Plano, Texas with his wife Chris. They have one son David. Tom attended Bucknell University, Robert Morris College, and American Institute of Banking all located in Pennsylvania. He was Vice President of a national mortgage company for many years before getting involved with Quick Brick. Tom is an inventor in his own right and an idea man when it comes to new applications for Quick Brick. He trained three years in masonry work and now he takes that knowledge and applies it to new ideas and designs for Quick Brick. It really shows in his work. We are pleased and honored to have Tom as a Quick Brick Certified Trainer. Congratulations Tom!

Susan Roby, Certified Distributor of Quick Brick, has recently completed the 12 month program that provides all the necessary criteria to become a Quick Brick Certified Training Assistant (CTA). Susan has been a vital part of the Quick Brick organization since 2003. She assists not only as a CTA at Quick Brick University but is also involved in the day to day operations of the company's presentations and promotions. She has many pleased and elated customers who have given her glowing commendations for her meticulous work as well as her outstanding customer service.

Susan stops at nothing to reach new heights with Quick Brick. She has applied Austin Stone on 20 foot walls in a kitchen and in her latest project she applied Austin Stone on the exterior archway of a two story brick home. (Shown in the pictures above.)

Susan resides in Plano, Texas with her husband Sam and their teenage sons Chris and Paul. She received her Bachelors of Business Administration from Lamar University in Beaumont, Texas. Along with having a Quick Brick Distributorship, Susan is very active in her church and at her boys' schools.

Her beautiful Quick Brick applications have earned her awards and can be seen on her gallery at www.quickbrick.com/susanrobby. Susan has done several commercial jobs including the Press Box Grill in downtown Dallas. Congratulations for a job well done and your achievement as a Quick Brick Certified Training Assistant.
